SAMPLE

In this modern era, majority of teenagers want a well reputable job. All jobs are good but sometimes few departments offer a daunting job. Here i would like to talk about a job which i would not like to do. Actually, this job is related to the police service. I have a lot of knowledge about this field because one of my friends is an officer of police department and I have a good bonding with this friend. He usually tells me the drawbacks of this department. I came to know that this department is full of corruption. Apart from this, there is political interference between the work. Moreover, promotion is granted on the basis of political recommendation. I was shocked when i came to know that in this job officers have to do both day and night shifts which sounded quite frustrating to me. This job is not well reputated in my society. All in all, I will never join this department because officers work mid night or about never achieve desirable respect.

FOLLOW UP

① What kind of jobs do young Indian people like to do?

Indian people like to do various kinds of jobs but majority of times teenagers prefer government jobs because they can earn handsome money as well as security.

② Do you think it is easier to get job now than past? I personally believe that, in this modern era, it is a daunting task to get a job because of various reasons. First and the foremost reason is increase in competition and only limited seats are available in most jobs.

③ Do you think that AI will take over many jobs? According to my opinion, AI will not completely replace human beings in professional sector. As some AI tools need human beings to operate them. For example the job of doctor is crucial because AI will cannot perform better than doctor.
